

INSTITUT DES HAUTES ETUDES SUR LA JUSTICE LAW & MATHEMATICS SEMINAR 2018 - 2019

CALL FOR PARTICIPATION : « JUNIORS OF LAW AND MATHEMATICS »

The Law & Mathematics seminar of the IHEJ was launched in October 2018 in order to bring together experts of fields where law and mathematics intertwine such as artificial intelligence and law. Our goal is to bring answers to current issues that lawmakers and justiciaries have regarding the future of our justice system.

For our last session of the year we are inviting junior experts to come and present their research.

Date of the event : June 6th 2019

Place : Ecole Nationale de la Magistrature, Paris

Format : 30 min presentations

To be considered candidates must write a four page essay synthetizing their presentation. Candidates will have to include a CV.

Deadline of submission : March 30th 2019

Deadline for selection : April 30th 2019

Languages : English or French

Topics for selection may include (but are not limited to) :

- Computer-assisted dispute resolution
- Ethical and legal issues of AI technology and its applications
- Interdisciplinary applications of legal informatics methods and systems
- Knowledge acquisition techniques for the legal domain, including natural language processing, argument and data mining
- Machine learning and data analytics applied to the legal domain
- Open and linked data in the legal domain
- Smart contracts and application of blockchain in the legal domain

Applications need to be sent to : jhailot@ihej.org before March 30th